

THE SECOND WAVE: TOWARD THE RESPONSIBLE INCLUSION OF PREGNANT WOMEN IN MEDICAL RESEARCH

Georgetown University
April 29 & 30, 2009

Agenda

Wednesday, April 29: Background and Brainstorming

- 9:30            Coffee and continental breakfast
- 10:00           Welcoming Remarks
                 Prof. Maggie Little, Georgetown University
                 Prof. Ruth Faden, Johns Hopkins University
                 Dr. Anne Lyerly, Duke University
- 10:30 – 12:00 Knowledge Gaps, Barriers, & the Cost of Ignorance
                 Dr. Jason Umans, Georgetown University
                 Dr. Anne Lyerly, Duke University
                 Dr. Karen Feibus, Maternal Health Team, FDA
- 12:00 – 1:00   Lunch, Robert and Bernice Wagner Alumni House
- 1:00 – 2:45    Identifying Biggest Needs
                 Participant discussion
- 2:45 – 3:00    Break
- 3:00 – 5:00    Biggest Barriers; Enterprising Solutions
                 Participant discussion
- 6:00            Dinner for participants, Agraria Restaurant

Thursday, April 30: Proposals for Moving Forward

- 8:30            Coffee and continental breakfast
- 9:00 – 10:00   Lessons from Pediatrics
Dr. Richard Gorman, NIH
- 10:00 – 11:30 Brainstorming Proposals I:
Research that imposes little to no additional medical risk
Participant roundtable
- 11:30 – 11:45 Break
- 11:45 – 1:30   Brainstorming Proposals II:
Research that imposes additional medical risk
(includes working lunch, 12:30-1:30)
Participant roundtable
- 1:30 – 3:00   Articulating and Drafting Consensus Proposals
Participant roundtable